

Annette Trabucco: Biographical Statement

Annette Trabucco has been working as a Mill Middle school art teacher for the past 15 years in the Williamsville school district as well as continuing her own artwork as an illustrator creating pen and ink drawings of Buffalo area landmarks and architectural drawings for private commissions and local area builders. Recently, Annette published her first coloring book called, “Color Buffalo NY” available through local retailers and Amazon. The detailed illustrations in her book celebrate our city’s rich architectural heritage, highlighting some of the beautiful architectural craftsmanship and artistry within our city.

Annette has captured the prestige of Buffalo and its rich architectural beauty in her line of Buffalo prints. For the past 30 years, she has taken an interest in Buffalo’s architecture and incorporated it into her business. She hopes that through her drawings she can share some of the beauty that she finds in the Western New York area. Having grown up in the Buffalo area and attending Buffalo State College for both her Graphic Design and Teaching degrees, Annette is excited to be a part of beautifying Amherst with the Amherst is Arts and Culture initiative traffic box painting.
